Intimate partner violence (IPV) is a significant health and social problem affecting individuals and families from all racial, ethnic, and socioeconomic groups. Mental health staff encounters survivors of IPV who are experiencing PTSD, depression, and/or panic and other anxiety disorders. The focus of this workshop will be on Latino consumers. One of the topics to be discussed is how legal status and immigration affect IPV. The overall goal of the training is to improve DMH staff response to IPV. The presenter will discuss identification of intervention with those affected by IPV. The presenter will also discuss how to help participants identify and utilize a consumer's strengths as part of the intervention process. They will also learn how to create plans for managing, referrals and follow-up of IPV consumers.

TARGET AUDIENCE: DMH employees and DMH contracted staff only!

OBJECTIVES: As a result of attending this training, participants should be able to:

1. Identify when domestic violence is occurring in a consumer's life.
2. Implement interventions to assist IPV survivors.
3. Manage and provide appropriate referrals for these Individuals.
4. Assist consumers in identifying their strengths in order to help them take action to remain safe.
