

Heal One World: Awareness Film Festival

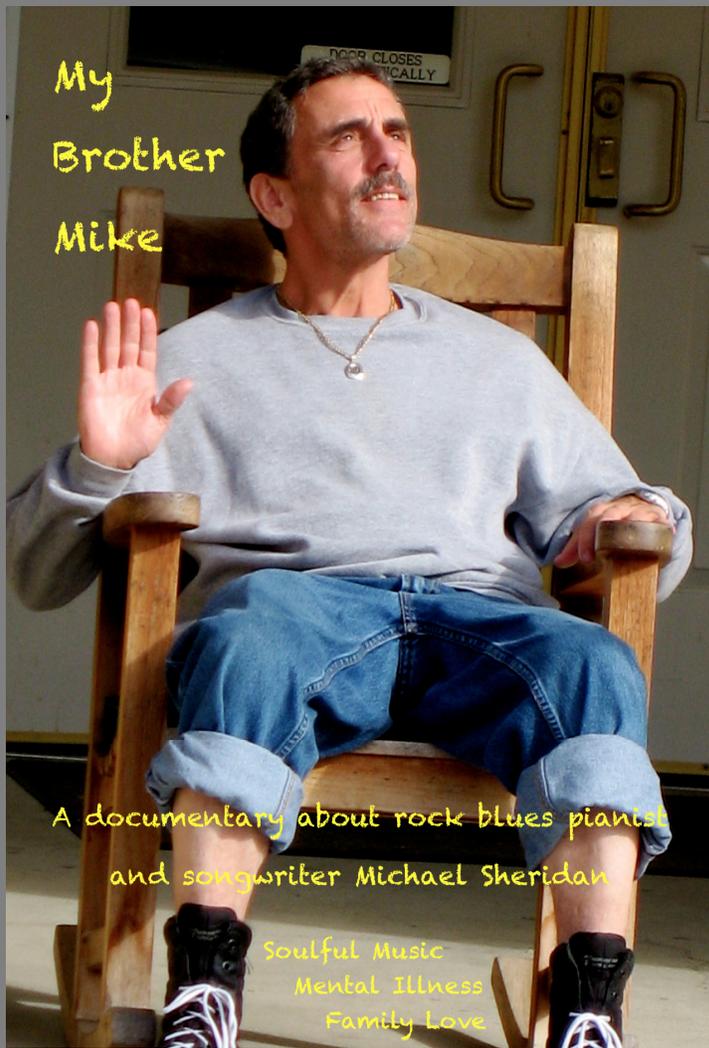

Presents - an award winning documentary

“My Brother Mike”

10:00 A.M. Sat May 7, 2011 Regent Showcase Theatre

614 North La Brea Ave. L.A. Ca. 90036

Q. and A. With Michael's sister to follow

My Brother
Mike

A documentary about rock blues pianist and songwriter Michael Sheridan

Soulful Music
Mental Illness
Family Love

Michael dreamed of becoming a rock 'n' roll star, but mental illness came between him and that dream. His sister Lisa feared his lifetime of music would be lost forever and set out to capture his music before it was too late. What began as an archival project became a feature documentary, an album and a fulfillment of Michael's dream.

"A very moving and sensational movie!"

"My Brother Mike captures the courage and the bittersweet moments that all of us feel when a loved one becomes ill. A wonderful tribute to Mike and the family that loves him!"
Pete Earley, author of "Crazy": a Father's Search Through America's Mental Health Madness.

Mental Health advocate Lisa Sheridan spent five years documenting this tribute to her brother's music and life.

Captivating footage of blues rock pianist Michael Sheridan in recording sessions and interviews shows the genius of his lyrics and musicality, his unpretentious idiosyncrasies, and his love of life.

For Festival details visit Awareness Festival:
<http://awarenessfestival.healoneworld.com/>

For More information about My Brother Mike visit: www.mybrothermike.net